Citizens of Campbell draft bond measures

Voters within the city limits of Campbell will go to the polls next Tuesday, Oct. 24, to cast ballots in a $3.6 million bond issue election.

Developed by a "grass roots" citizens committee, representing every area of the city, the bond issue, broken into six different measures, will provide the means, the citizens emphasize, to "build a solid foundation for your investment in Campbell".

That the citizens have been practical in their approach to the situation from a financial point of view is noted by the endorsement of the bond issue by the Santa Clara County Taxpayers Association, traditional "watchdog" for the taxpayer's interests.

15 PRECINCTS

The 15 consolidated precincts that have been established for the election will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Within the city limits there are approximately 7500 registered voters, according to City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan.

That this has been a citizens movement from beginning to end is indicated by the thousands of hours that have been expended by groups of dedicated residents of the community, first, in an intensive study of the capital improvement needs of the city and, second, in the drafting of a bond issue that would accomplish the objectives but at the same time would be practical and feasible from an economic point of view.

The majority of the volunteer citizen workers had never been exposed to civic activities prior to the bond issue campaign but they tackled the situation with an enthusiasm and dedication unparralled in this city's annals

THEIR efforts merit YOUR endorsement

(EDITORIAL)

The Campbell Press sincerely urges the citizens of Campbell to go to the polls next Tuesday, Oct. 24, and wholeheartedly endorse the efforts of their fellow citizens by casting an affirmative vote for all six bond measures that are on the ballot.

The vote next Tuesday is the culmination of an unique community effort.

Never before in the history of this city has there been such a refreshing grass-roots response from Mr. and Mrs. John Doe Citizen to "do something" about their community.

But that is probably a natural reaction, for never before has any improvement program been developed or presented that so wholly represented the feelings of the citizens themselves.

The bond issue was developed BY the citizens FOR the citizens. Thousands of man hours have been expended by volunteer, dedicated people whose sole objective has been to make a better community in which to live and work at a price we all can afford.

These sincere individuals, representing every geographical area of the city who have striven so hard to make a success of this unique "operation bootstraps", had no thought of personal gain.

Their thoughts and efforts have solely been for their community.

We sincerely believe that this unselfishness on their part should be rewarded by their fellow citizens who are to benefit from the program.

And there can be no better "reward" than an overwhelming affirmative vote on all six measures Tuesday.

We believe YOUR committee deserves such an endorsement.

In Campbell 1966-1967

Taxable sales show slight increase in second period

Although four-fifths of the counties in the state reported lower taxable sales during the second quarter this year compared to a like period last year, Santa Clara County showed a 3.5% increase and the City of Campbell went up 2.6%.

Campbell's total sales on which sales tax is paid went from a total of $10,468,000 for the second quarter in 1966 to $10,878,000 for the second period this year, a gain of $310,000, according to the State Board of Equalization.

Three of the 10 leading Santa Clara County cities listed in the report, showed a decrease in sales this year from last. Los Altos dropped from $7,605,000 in 1966 to $7,269,000 this year; Gilroy decreased from $5,042,000 to $4,598,000 and San Jose dropped from $161,983,000 to $158,148,000.

CAR SALES

Because of the surge in automobile sales, Los Gatos in the second quarter this year went to $12,369,000 compared to $11,353,000 in 1966.

In the second quarter in 1967, the automobile category accounted for $7,245,000 in total sales compared to $6,328,000 in the same period in 1966.

In the second period this year, automobile sales accounted for 58% of the total taxable sales for Los Gatos.

BUILDING

In Campbell during the second quarter this year, building materials accounted for 20% of the total taxable sales or $2,061,000. In close second place was the home furnishings category (basically Breuner's) with $1,986,000 or 18%.

Building materials this year showed a slight drop from the previous year ($2,094,000 to $2,061,000) while home furnishings increased from $1,876,000 to $1,986,000.

FOOD SALES

Food sales in Campbell accounted for 8% of the total sales with a total of $962,000, an increase of $21,000 in sales from the same period of a year ago.

Campbell in food-sales outdistanced Los Gatos by $95,000 in the second quarter ($962,000 vs. $867,000). And Campbell service stations also did more business than their counterparts in Los Gatos, $266,000 compared to $174,000.

Incidentally in Los Gatos the "food" category and "eating and drinking places" each provided for about 7% of the taxable sales, with "food" having a $867,000 total and "eating places" $860,000.

In Campbell, surprisingly enough, "eating and drinking places" furnished 7% of the total sales, following "food" with $793,000. This was a sizeable increase of $174,000 from the same period of a year ago.

DRUGS DOWN

One of the few categories to show a decrease in total sales during the second period this year from the previous years was "drug stores".

In the second period

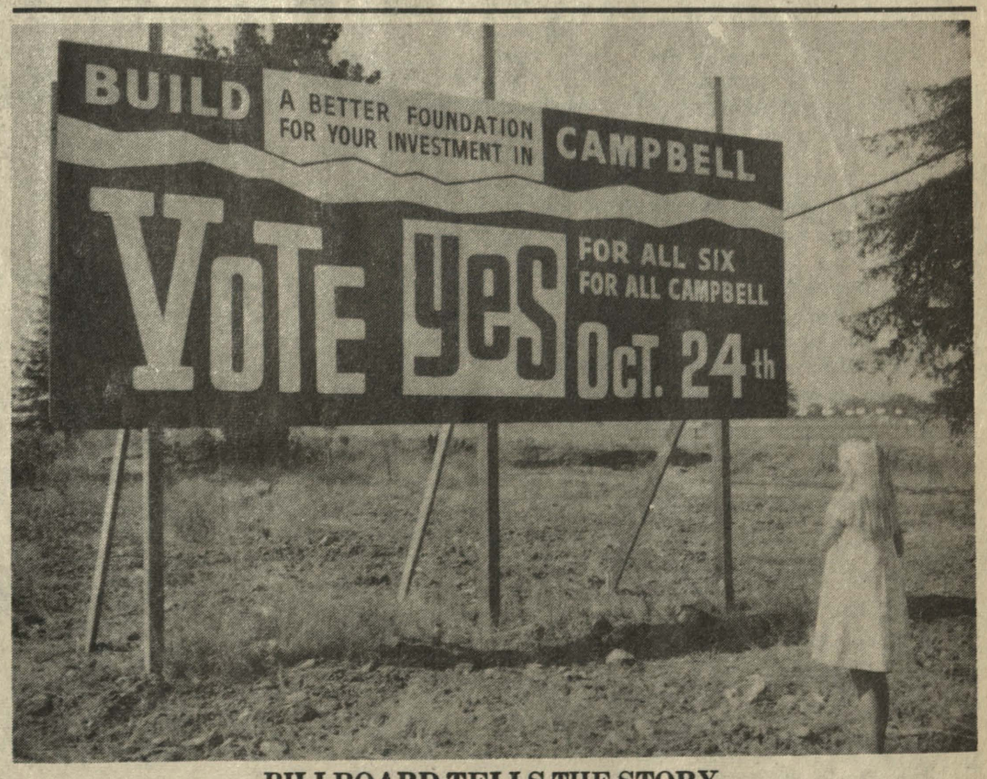
BUT TRAFFIC FLOWS ON--Bumper-to-bumper traffic on heavily-traveled Campbell Ave. was only slightly interrupted early Saturday afternoon when the above-pictured station wagon lost a wheel.

Prompt traffic control by Officer Tony Silva of the Campbell police, kept the vehicles moving around the stalled car with hardly a hitch until the tow truck arrived.



BILLBOARD TELLS THE STORY

City Council faces light agenda Monday on eve of bond election

Campbell city councilmen and other city officials, who have been attending the annual convention of the League of California Cities in San Francisco this week, have a light agenda on tap for next Monday's council meeting, the eve of the city bond vote.

Scheduled for adoption are three ordinances, including a zone change for property owned by Mr. and Mrs. H.A. Olson on Winchester Blvd. south of Latimer Ave.

The ordinance will give C-1-S (commercial) zoning for the property now zoned for residential. The Planning Commission originally recommended (P-O) professional office for the parcels which was opposed by the applicants who were represented at the hearings by former Mayor John M. Chargin, San Jose attorney.

The council asked the commission to reconsider its action which the commission did and on a split vote recommended C-1-S which action was resubmitted to the council.

At the last meeting,

OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

BACK ON THE FIRING LINE after a couple of weeks of welcome respite from typewriteritis (for both you and us) and we freely admit that we enjoyed our recess.

Some of our well-meaning (?) friends (?) have suggested that they also appreciated the interlude.

During our absence this space was filled more than adequately by Ben Gould, pastor of the First Methodist Church, and Dick Hogan, city planning director.

Both "guest columnists" have received commendations from many quarters for their efforts.

We thoroughly enjoyed reading their efforts also and we appreciate their filling in during our absence. Thanks, Ben and Dick.

But, holy smokes, guys you didn't have to be so darn good.

Our weekly output will probably suffer by comparison.

ONE "CONSTANT reader" (but a mighty fickle one if you ask us) even suggested we make a regular habit of having guests handle this assignment.

But then that wouldn't be fair either to continuously put some other party so far "out on the limb."

That particular limb might crack under the strain of the extra weight.

At times during the past decade or so since we have been on it in Campbell, naturally scars have developed from the chopping actions of our readers.

So we wouldn't want a guest to topple off our limb because of chops that had been inflicted by either of those chaps, Irate or Constant Reader.

GOING "OUT ON THE LIMB" in public print, of course, has some disadvantages.

One can become a sitting duck for brickbats tossed from the sidelines by individuals who are not "fortunate enough" (to use the term loosely) of having to make their feelings on various issues publicly known.

But we sort of like it thataway. We don't mind expressing our opinions privately or publicly. Or had you heard?

For example, we feel strongly that the $3.6 million capital improvement bond issue that the citizens of Campbell will vote on next Tuesday, Oct. 24, is the most important development in the history of this community.

WE SINCERELY believe that the bond issue is necessary.

An overwhelmingly affirmative vote on all six measures will give this community an impetus that will more than pay dividends in the future for all of us.

Actually we are not really "going out on the limb" in urging an affirmative vote on all six measures. We are merely echoing the feelings of a dedicated group of local citizens.

The bond issue itself stems from the efforts of the citizens themselves who developed the program after weeks of intensive study.

It was a representative citizens group that specified the needs for their community on a priority basis and then decided how much in dollars and cents would be economically sound to achieve the objectives.

THE MAJORITY OF the members of the citizens advisory committee and who, in turn, are directing the bond campaign as Campbell Citizens for Progress, have never been involved in civic activities before.

They have a refreshing approach to the local situation. They simply analyzed the needs in the community and decided to do something about it.

Their fellow citizens also can "do something about it" next Tuesday by giving this grass roots group an overwhelming vote of confidence by approving all six measures on the ballot.

ALTHOUGH THE bond vote is not until next Tuesday, and no ballots will be counted until 7 p.m., we submit that the "first returns" will show a "trend" that we sincerely hope will continue throughout the evening.

At 7 p.m. City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan will open and count the absentee ballots.

True this "precinct" will not have too heavy a vote (less than a dozen) but the results should be favorable.

Among the absentees, for example, are Councilman Homer Hyde and his wife, Katherine.. Bob Stephens, Jr., son of the city manager; Norm Paul, of the Citizens for Progress; Les Harmon, long-time active civic worker; and a number of others who are equally as civic-minded.

WRITTEN WORDS OF sympathy at the time of the passing of a loved one always seem so inadequate.

There seems no way to completely express one's feeling, no matter how professional or articulate the writer may appear to be.

Especially does this become apparent when a person with whom one has been closely associated for many years dies.

And especially again when that person was one of the finest gentlemen it has been our privilege to know.

And that is how it was with us when Lyle Ray died last week.

LYLE RAY HAD been the office manager of The Campbell Press, on full or part-time basis for more than 12 years.

Failing health necessitated his retirement from his part-time position early this year.

But, although he was almost 75-years old at the time, we of The Press sort of expected him back, for Lyle had "retired" before and he had come back to us, for The Press was never the same without his presence.

We needed him, not only because of his meticulous bookkeeping ability and other assistance that he offered in a gracious and unobtrusive way, but for himself alone.

IF LYLE HAD EVEN the remotest streak of meanness in him, there was never the slightest indication of it in all the years he worked with us..

That in itself is quite an achievement in a newspaper office like ours...Or any office, for that matter, when tempers flare and words flow freely.

Lyle came to us after his first "retirement".. He had served under civil service with the Army Finance Corps and moved to Campbell when he "retired".

He "retired" again after almost 10 years with us...and then he came back on a part-time basis.

We of The Press staff will all be better human beings, if some of Lyle's qualities have rubbed off on us. And, you know something, we think they have. Just being associated with him for all these years, was worthwhile to all.

And that, friends, is a legacy that all of us would be proud to leave.

To his immediate family, and especially to his sister, Mrs. Olive Towne, whom we consider "also as one of us", the staff of The Press extends its sincere sympathy, as inadequate as it seems.

And there is a niche here at the office that will never be filled.

called "Koffee Klatch" approach. More than 40 such affairs have been scheduled to acquaint the voters with the needs and more are on tap in the final days of the campaign.

Seasoned observers of the local political scene have been amazed by the unprecedented enthusiasm and dedication shown by the citizen groups whose sole purpose is to build a better Campbell.

They have maintained throughout the campaign that the interests of the average citizen-taxpayer will benefit from the bond issue because it does provide a solid foundation for their investment in this community.

SIX MEASURES

The six measures are listed as "A" to "F" on the ballot.

Measure A, ($400,000) provides for the new public library which will be part of the county library system and the bonds will be paid back by a lease arrangement at no cost to the Campbell taxpayers.

Measure B, ($1,045,000) provides for the improvement of the city's streets and traffic safety system, including the city's share of a pedestrian overcrossing at San Tomas Expressway and Rincon.

Measure C, ($130,000) provides for the completion of the city's service center.

Measure D, ($345,000) provides for the construction of Fire Station No. 2 on land now owned by the city. For a number of years, the city has rented a residence for a fire station at a cost of $200 per month.

Measure E, ($835,000) provides for police and city administration facilities. The present city hall, in a converted church building originally built in 1891, has long been inadequate for the city's operations.

Measure F, ($850,000) provides Campbell with the long-needed central community park which will be developed on city-owned Rincon Park site, long dormant because of inadequate funds to improve and expand it.

Sales increase

in 1966, "drug stores" total sales came to $288,000 while for the same quarter in 1967 sales dropped to $283,000.

Campbell with $10,468,000 in total sales was in seventh place among the 10 cities of the county listed in the report. San Jose ($158,148,000); Palo Alto ($47,242,000); Santa Clara ($44,419,000); Mountain View ($37,757,000); Sunnyvale ($32,414,000) and Los Gatos ($12,369,000) topped Campbell.

Los Altos ($7,269,000); Cupertino ($5,968,000) and Gilroy ($4,598,000) followed this city.

Cities received 1% of the taxable sales in sales tax. Thus for the second quarter this city should pick up approximately $108,000 while Los Gatos collects $123,000.

"Auto row" in Los Gatos provides $72,000 of the $123,000 total!

Campbell is without a single automobile agency, the only one with that dubious distinction of the 10 top cities in the county.

Few cities in the state with 20,000 plus population have that "distinction".

the council gave "first reading" to the ordinance.

Another ordinance up for adoption will allow firemen and police officers to retire at age 55 under the State Employment Retirement Plan.

The council meeting next Monday will be on the eve of the $3.6 million city bond issue election slated for Tuesday, Oct. 24 which city officials maintain is the most important progressive step ever taken in this city's history.

City officials have cooperated with the Campbell Citizens for Progress throughout the bond issue campaign in acquainting the citizens with the city needs at Koffee Klatches and other events.

One of the last such assemblies before the election has been scheduled for the recreation room at the Cardiff Affair apartments on Union Ave. on Monday at 7:30 p.m. when discussion on the bond issue will take place. The meeting is open to the public.

"Bonds build solid foundation for YOUR investment in Campbell"

OVERCROWDED NOW--A converted store building at Campbell and Central which has housed the library since 1962 and has proven grossly inadequate, will be replaced by a new $400,000 building (Measure A) if the bond issue passes next Tuesday, Oct. 24. The bonds will be paid back by a lease arrangement with the library district with no effect on the Campbell tax rate.

Citizen groups urge yes vote next Tuesday

Citizens of Campbell next Tuesday, Oct. 24, will have the long-awaited opportunity "to do something" about the present and future of their community.

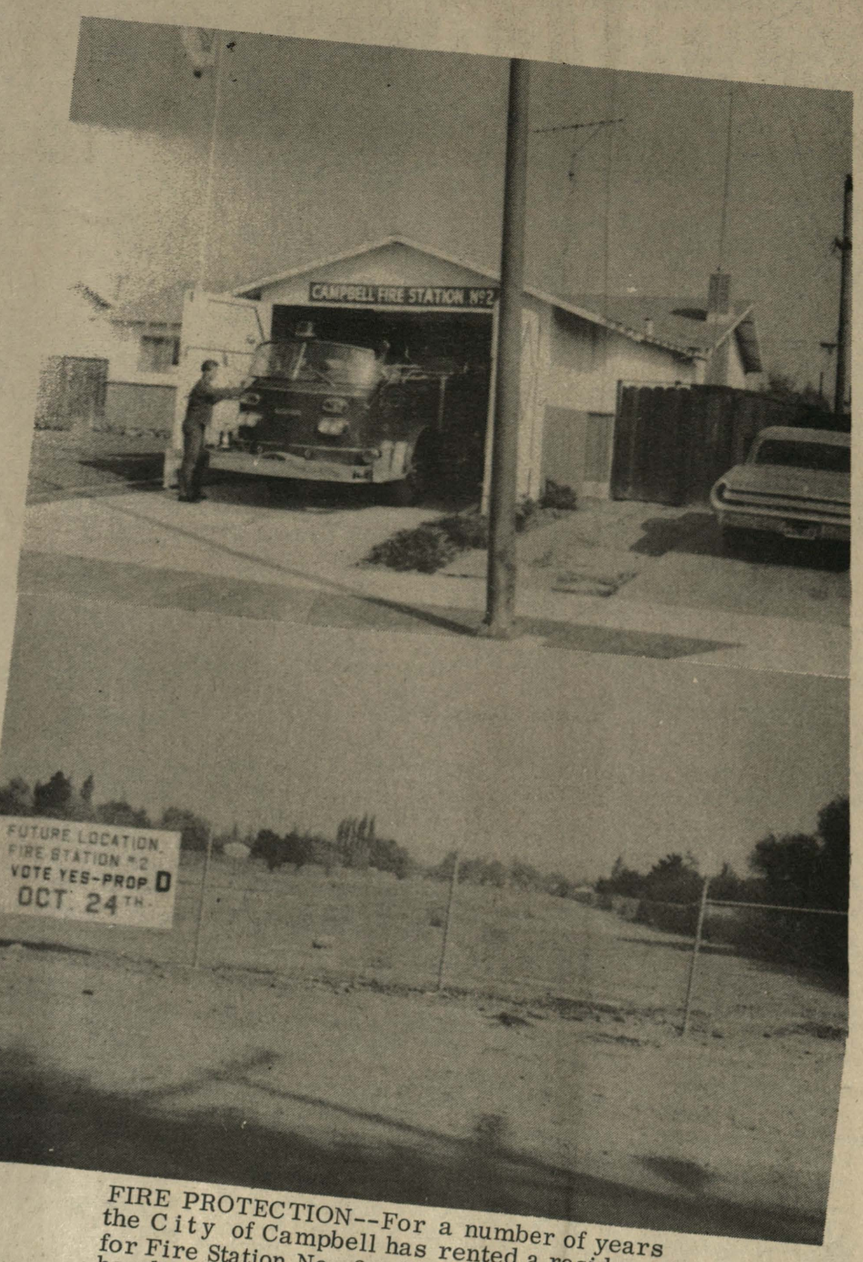
Next Tuesday, a $3.6 million capital improvement bond issue, consisting of six measures, will be presented to the voters for their approval. A two-thirds majority of the votes cast will be necessary for the bonds to pass.

Developed strictly from the "grass roots", groups of dedicated citizens of the community are not only campaigning for the passage of the bonds but they were also responsible for developing the entire bond program that will be presented next Tuesday.

Never before in the history of the community has there been such a response from the citizens themselves in a united effort to "get things done".

Spearheaded by the Campbell Citizens for Progress, groups of citizens have devoted hundreds of hours in acquainting their fellow citizens with the needs of the community and how these needs can be satisfied.

They urge approval of ALL SIX for all Campbell next Tuesday.



FIRE PROTECTION--For a number of years the City of Campbell has rented a residence for Fire Station No. 2 (at $200 per month) but has lacked adequate finances to build adequate facilities on city-owned property. Measure D on the ballot next Tuesday will provide $345,000 for fire protection.

NON-EXISTENT PARK NOW--Measure F on the ballot next Tuesday will provide for facilities and expansion of the city-owned Rincon Ave. park site, (pictured above) acquired some years ago, but funds have been lacking for its improvement. Measure F provides $850,000 in funds for facilities and expansion.

City Hall since 1956

Remodeled in 1923

BALL-CARRIERS--Some of citizen "ball-carriers" in the drive for successful passage of the $3.6 million bond issue next Tuesday pose with football and helmets. Left to right, Dale Scott, John Morgan, Henry Cary, Norman Paul, Pete Giorgianni and Don Hebard.

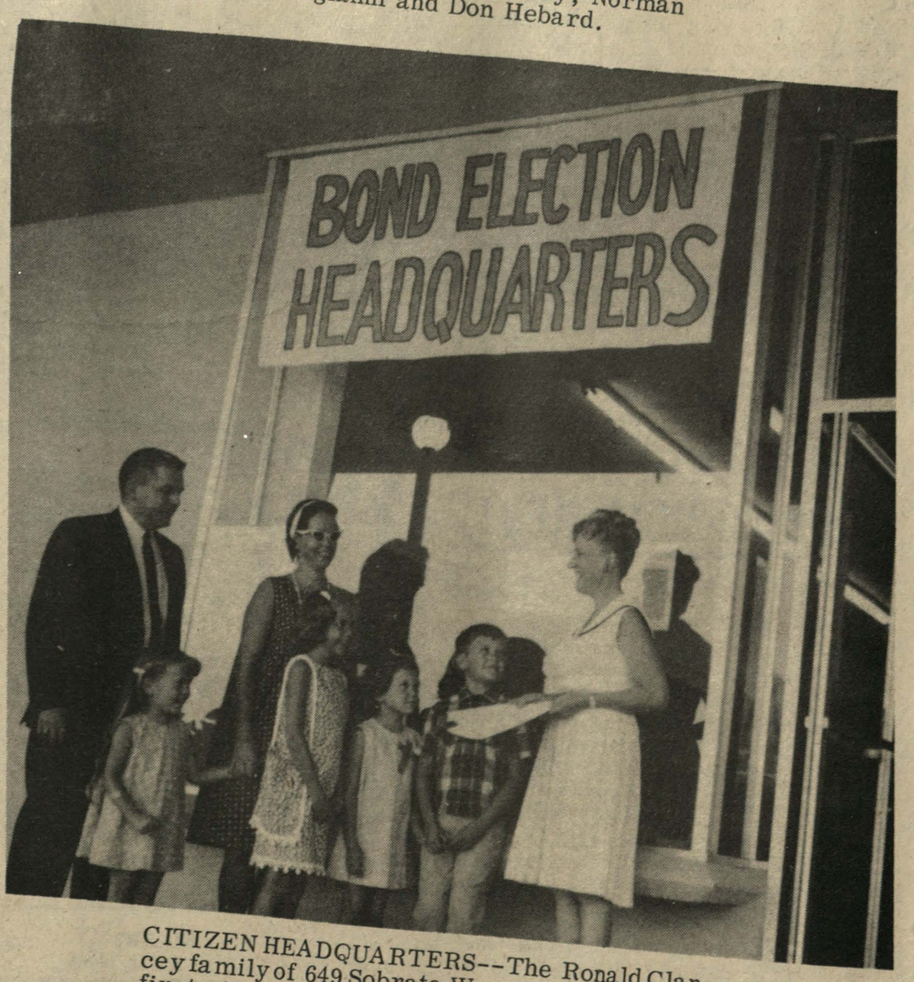
Built in 1891

MORE THAN 75-YEARS OF SERVICE--Campbell City Hall since 1956 has been housed in the converted Campbell Congregational Church originally built in 1891. The police headquarters in the hall are presently cramped for space and the engineering department uses a rented building. Measure E on the ballot next Tuesday earmarks $835,000 for a city administration-police building.



CITIZEN HEADQUARTERS--The Ronald Clancey family of 649 Sobrato Way were among the first visitors to call at the bond headquarters in the Kirkwood Plaza. Mrs. Jayne O'Reilly, on the right, office secretary is greeting them.

DONATION TO CAMPAIGN--Oleg Lubeckis, finance chairman of Campbell Citizens for Progress, accepts a check for $100 from Ed Finlay, president of the City of Campbell Municipal Employees Association. The donation is from all the members of the association. Don Hebard, general chairman of Campbell Citizens for Progress, looks on.

HELPING OUT--Oleg Lubeckis, (left) finance chairman of the Campbell Citizens for Progress, accepts a $300 check from the Chamber of Commerce presented by Bob Bullard, C of C treasurer.

BUILD A BETTER FOUNDATION FOR YOUR INVESTMENT IN CAMPBELL

Each voter in city to get bond measure arguments

On Tuesday, Oct. 24, the citizens of the City of Campbell will vote on a $3,600,000 capital improvement bond issue, the first in more than eight years and the first since this community has undergone its tremendous growth.

In fact in the past eight years the City of Campbell has doubled its population.

The six measures on the ballot are: A- public library, $400,000; B- Streets and traffic safety, $1,045,000; C- Service center, $130,000; D- Fire protection, $345,000; E- Police and city administration facilities, $850, 000; F- Park and recreational facilities, $850,000.

MEASURE (A): Public Library

Measure A provides for the acquisition, construction and completion of a new public library. This will include land, building, site improvements, and other works, property or structures necessary or convenient for a new public library for the City of Campbell.

The most attractive feature of this measure is that it will not cost the taxpayer of Campbell additional taxes since this entire program will be financed through the existing taxes now being paid into the County Library Fund.

The need is evident, a new library will raise the educational standards of our citizens. Vote YES on Measure A for needed and improved library services in your community.

MEASURE (B): Streets and Traffic Safety

Measure B provides for the acquisition, construction, completion, and the improvement of the City's streets and traffic safety system. This program includes street lights, traffic signals, easements, rights-of-way, pedestrian overcrossing, curbs, gutters, sidewalks, street improvements to both minor and major City streets, and other works, property or structures necessary or convenient for the improvement of the streets and traffic safety of the City of Campbell.

To provide for a new and modern traffic circulation plan and a traffic safety program, your YES vote on Measure B is needed. Let's maintain our record of no pedestrian fatalities by supporting these long overdue and needed improvements.

A property owner with a home assessed at $17,000 market value could expect a maximum investment of $17.00 per year to retire the $3,600,000 bond issue for the six measures.

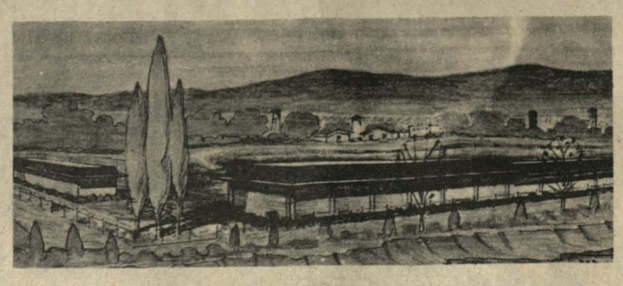
This represents less than 5 cents per day, as compared with 35 cents for a package of cigaretts, 30 cents for a loaf of bread, and 49 cents for a half gallon of milk.

MEASURE (C): Service Center Improvements

Measure C provides for the acquisition, construction and completion of the existing City Service Center on land now owned by the City. This includes buildings, storage facilities for equipment, hoists, machinery and apparatus for housing and repair of city equipment and vehicles, and other works, property or structures necessary or convenient for the improvement of the existing City Service Center.

Bonds for the construction funds must be authorized NOW before building costs go higher and present street maintenance services of the city reaches a point where the city is unable to maintain the existing level of service it is now endeavoring to provide.

The need is GREAT — VOTE YES ON MEASURE C.



MEASURE (D): Fire Protection

Measure D provides for the improvement of fire protection services of the City of Campbell. This includes acquisition of land for fire station sites, construction of buildings, training tower and appurtenances to be known as Fire Station No. 2 on land owned by the City on Sunnyoaks Avenue, fire-fighting equipment, furnishings and machinery, and other works, property or structures necessary or convenient for improvement of fire protection services of the City of Campbell.

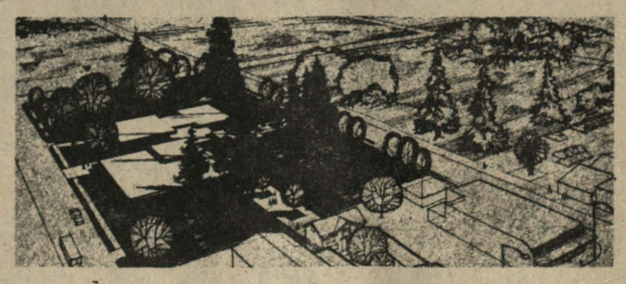
The choice is yours — your YES vote will improve the present fire stations which are inadequate and poorly located. THE FACTS SPEAK FOR THEMSELVES.

CAMPBELL CITIZENS FOR PROGRESS
Don Hebard, Chairman
Jeanette Watson, Vice Chairman

The following are the arguments favoring each measure that will be distributed with the Oct. 24 ballots:

The six bond measures that will appear on the ballot are the results of the dedicated efforts of a citizens group who intently studied the program and then made a recommendation to the City Council for the bond issue.

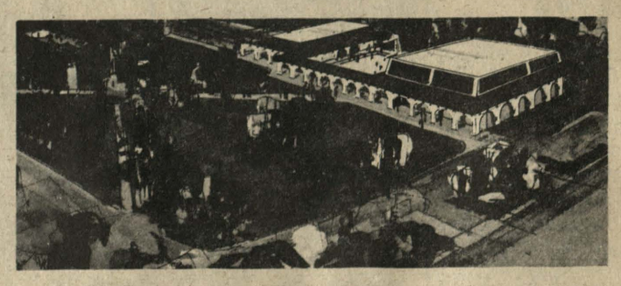
It thus is completely a grass roots response to the needs of this community and makes the theme for the campaign "BUILD a solid foundation for your INVESTMENT in Campbell, VOTE YES for all six for ALL Campbell, Oct. 24".



MEASURE (E): Poice and City Administration Facilities

Measure E provides for the improvement of police and city administration facilities, including land acquisition and new building to house the police and city administration offices, parking facilities, landscaping, and furnishings for such building, and other works, property or structures necessary or convenient for improvement of police and city administration facilities for the City of Campbell.

Studies indicate that the area of Campbell will increase by more than one-third and its population will more than double by 1980. Consequently, your YES vote on Bond Measure E is needed to enable your government to build a better City for our future. THE NEED IS CERTAIN — LETS BUILD A BETTER CITY FOR THE FUTURE, VOTE YES ON "E".



MEASURE (F): Park and Recreation Improvements

Measure F provides for Rincon park and recreation improvements, including acquisition of real property, grading, paving, landscaping, installation of sprinkler systems, playground equipment and recreational fields and facilities, community center buiding and furnishings, and other works, property or structures necessary or convenient for park and recreation improvements for the City of Campbell.

It can readily be observed that if the Citizens of Campbell are to provide themselves with park and recreational facilities, it must be done NOW. Delay now would only result in the loss of our one, large remaining open space area to future urban housing developments. THE FACTS ARE CLEARLY EVIDENT — your YES vote on Measure F is needed to guarantee adequate open space areas and developed recreational facilities.

IBM employees in Campbell are honored

Employees of IBM Corporation's Information Records Division in Campbell were honored at the first county United Fund report meeting for their "outstanding accomplishments" in their 1967 UF appeal.

Plant Manager Robert E. Harrison, Personnel Manager Richard E. Andis and IBM Club President John Ne-Smith, represented employees and accepted congratulations from Robert U. Skibinski, Central Area Chapter UF campaign chairman and general manager/vice president of Pacific Telephone's Central Counties area.

Information Records Division personnel listed a 23 per cent increase in giving over the amount raised in 1966, with an average gift of $27.11. Seventy-five per cent of the employees participated in this year's United Fund drive.

IBM Corp. served as a "pacesetter" group, along with many other employee groups throughout the county who were recognized for their successful appeals at the report luncheon.

Senior citizens get slight aid by new law

The Board of Supervisors has alerted Santa Clara County property taxpayers to the new Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance law which will result in refunds for some taxpayers over 65 years of age.

Information will be mailed with each tax bill in Santa Clara County, to go out the end of October.

The new law, enacted by the last session of the Legislature, establishes a procedure to rebate a part of the property taxes paid by persons 65 years of age or older if their annual income is not more than $3,350 and they owned and occupied their home during the current fiscal year.

Santa Clara County Supervisors consistently over the years urged such legislation to benefit senior citizen taxpayers on fixed incomes.

The law provides a sliding scale of assistance according to annual income and is limited to the first $5,000 of assessed value on a home.

If the total annual household income is $1,000 or less, the state will rebate 95 per cent of the taxes paid on the first $5,000 of assessed value.

If the annual income is $3,350, the rebate drops to only 1 per cent. Between $1,000 and $3,350, the rebate rate drops 1 per cent for every $25 increase in income. At the $2,500 income level it is 35 per cent.

For example, a senior citizen Santa Clara County couple living in a home with a market value of $16,000 and with an annual household income of $2,500 would receive a rebate of some $140 if the combined rate in the tax code area was $10 per $100 of assessed valuation.

Statistics gathered during the 1966 special Spring census showed 51,201 persons 65 years or older living in this county.

Household income is defined as the total income of all persons in the home, and includes wages, alimony, support, pensions, annuities, unemployment insurance, workmen's compensation and gifts over $300.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

If the general public is to judge the current struggle between the President and Congress over spending on what appears in the press, it will miss the full story. So far, press reports have not made much of the fact that Congress is tired of seeing the Administration use the complexities of budgeting and federal finance to confuse the public and pass the spending buck to Capitol Hill.

The public doesn't realize there are three separate budgets which, according to CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY"...can be used in various ways to give a favorable impression of the government's finances." There is the administrative budget presented to Congress but which omits certain items like the giant trust funds operated by the government. In fiscal year 1965 these funds accounted for $31 billion in receipts and $29.6 billion in expenditures.

A more complete picture of national fiscal affairs is provided by the consolidated cash budget, but this does not include government borrowing from the public. Lastly, there is the national income accounts budget which includes everything.

President Johnson is a master at playing the budgetary shell game. In January he talks about his administrative budget, but when he wants his deficit to look smaller he switches to talking about the cash budget. For two years in a row the President has talked economy and occasionally curtailed popular and self-financing programs like highway construction. Then about January he garners excellent publicity by submitting an unexpectedly low budget. What the public does not know is that he has already prepared supplemental budget requests for many items he supposedly deleted. The President constantly hints that Congress is spending beyond his budget, but is always wringing Congressional arms to approve vast and far-reaching new programs costing billions of extra dollars.

Congress consistently votes less money than the President requests. Already this year we have cut his budget by $1.9 billion.

What should be remembered and what news stories should reflect is that the Executive Branch spends our money and Congress only makes it available. The President is not required to spend every cent made available to him. In fact, on July 1 he had $50.3 billion of "unobligated funds" on hand.

It is these funds which Congress is asking the President not to spend in order to hedge against inflation and avoid a tax increase. But he has adamantly refused and meanwhile has insisted on "new obligational authority" for Great Society programs like the War on Poverty, Highway Beautification, Appalachia, and others.

Congress resents tactics like cutting back on road building and highway safety, while asking for greatly increased funding of Mrs. Johnson's highway beautification program. It resents cutting back on decent barracks for our soldiers while the poverty program and farm price supports go relatively unscathed. Congress feels, with justification, that it is time for the Administration to make an honest effort to curb the greatest cause of federal deficits--new federal boondoggles.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION AND WELFARE
SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

Q. - Is it true that I can now earn more than $1200 a year and still get all my social security checks?

A. - Yes, you can earn up to $1500 a year, and still receive all of your benefits.

Q. - My father, a social security beneficiary, has a part-time job. To keep the job, he must work a minimum number of hours, which causes him to earn slightly over $1500 a year. Will he lose all his social security benefits?

A. - No. He will lose only part of his benefits. His benefits will be reduced by only $1 for each $2 he earns between $1500 and $2700, and he will lose $1 in benefits for each $1 earned over $2700. If your father earned $2500 a year, for example, his social security benefits would be reduced by only $500.

Q. - I am 67 years of age, and earning about $7000 a year. Every year, I take off in the summer and have no income in July or August. Can I get social security for these months?

A. - Yes. No matter how high your yearly earnings are, you can receive checks for any month you do not earn more than $125.

Q. - In figuring the $1500 limitation, does Social Security consider my gross or net wages?

A. - Your gross wages (not your take-home pay) is used.

Q. - My 66-year-old mother owns and operates a small dress shop. Every year, in the slow season, she closes the shop for a month and goes on vacation. Can she be paid social security for this month?

A. - Yes. No matter how much a self-employed person earns in a year, he can be paid social security for any month he does not perform substantial work in his business.

Del Mar hosts annual Invitational track meet on Saturday

Campbell Corners

by Pat Hebard

Campbell Bucs creamed Del Mar Dons with a score of 41 to 7. The mighty Bucs are tied for the lead in the West Valley League competition. The spirit was terrific.

John Lobrovich is now back in school and was seen at the game cheering the team with Kevin Barnes who is also on crutches.

Frosh-Soph defeated Del Mar's team. The score was 7-0. It was an exciting game.

Buc Band performed at half-time. The Flag Girls twirled to "Born Free". The Pirettes and Majorettes performed to "Hello, Dolly". The Band did a fancy drill to "New Colonial". Assistant drum major Perry Rogers, took John Brydon's place for the game.

Annual Band Day at Stanford's Washington game was attended by the Buc Band last Saturday. Forty-eight other bands participated. Among them were Los Gatos, Saratoga and Camden. Some bands came as far away as Santa Barbara.

Announced as contenders for the Rose Bowl, the Campbell band has sent out petitions for names of people who want them to go to the parade. They are also selling candy for the trip. The petitions will be sent to Pasadena. Their goal is 10,000 names.

The Juniors are still selling magazines. Beverly Handel holds first in selling the most subscriptions. Miss Kolias's 6th period class has sold more than any other class. The Juniors, overall, have sold $1800 of their $6000 goal. Come on, Juniors!

The Freshmen dance was held last Friday in the girl's gym. Most of the class of '71 attended.

Young Life was held at Chuck Hawthorne's house last Monday. Gary Fischer is the newly elected president and Gerris Elkins is vice-president. Meetings will be held every Monday night throughout the school year at 7:30 p.m. at homes of Campbell students.

There will not be a game this Friday. The team is getting ready for their battle with Saratoga. See you then!

Westmont Whirl

By Laura Vierra

Westmont had a bye last week so no football games were played. Our next football games will be Thursday and Friday against Blackford at Blackford. Kick-off time will be at 3. Due to a new district policy the Warrior Marching Band will not be able to perform at away games.

The Westmont campus this last week has been quiet with students going about their normal routines.

The paper drive is still going on strong in hopes of raising money! Each class is out to beat the other. Keen competition is between the Juniors and Seniors. All Juniors who have been saving their newspapers are asked to contact Maureen Regala; Seniors are urged to contact their class officers, or Louie Olson and Julie Tomlin. Come on Sophomores and Freshmen give the upper classmen a run for their money!

The Junior Magazine sale will be continued for another week and all Juniors must sell, if they want any activities. Committee chairmen is Junior Pres., Marilyn Van Wichen who has been doing a great job. She urges all Juniors to try their best.

Junior rings came in last Thursday and all students are pleased with their choice.

Tonight, Girl's Sports is having their annual initiation party where all new members wish they were old members!

All parents are being asked to join the Westmont PTA.

This is all for this week--see you again next week.

Del Mar Dateline

SPORTS by Ed Gibson

Coming up this Saturday, Oct. 21, at 9:30 a.m. is the annual Del Mar cross country Invitational track meet. Approximately 800 runners from 22 schools will participate.

While defeat befell Del Mar's varsity football squad last week, the varsity cross country team racked up a double win. The Dons were no match for the Campbell gridmen in the game held here on Friday, Oct. 13, losing the contest 41 to 7 The loss put Del Mar's varsity football season at 2-2 overall and 2-1 in WVAL competition.

by Glenda Vitale

Well it's that time of year again. Next week has been designated as Twirp Week. During this week from Oct. 23 to Oct. 27, some pretty unusual things will be going on. Monday will be Button Day, with everyone sporting buttons of all shapes and sizes. Tuesday will be Clash Day. On this day normal dress standards will still be in effect, but colors will be clashed. Wednesday is Hat and Tie Day, when everyone will pull out those old hats and wierd ties and wear them. Thursday is Slave Day. The girls will have to open doors, tie shoes, and perform other duties usually performed by the boys. On Friday, which is Silence to Boys Day, girls are not allowed to utter one word to any boy all day.

Climaxing Twirp Week will be the Twirp Dance, "O Leary's Barn", on Friday. It will be held in the cafeteria from 8 to 11. At this dance, girls will be the hostesses for everything. She will be opening doors for her date, buying him refreshments, etc. It is also her duty to give him a corsage, usually homemade of candy.

Last Friday's game proved to be something of a letdown for spirited Del Mar, as we were defeated 7-41.

In my review of the cast chosen for the Senior play, I failed to mention the name of Bob Patterson. Sorry, Bob!

Blackford Beat

By Linda Hodam

This summer Blackford's Varsity cheerleaders spent one week at the University of Redlands Camp. Led by head cheerleader, Patti Fenton, the girls placed four days out of five, and brought back to Blackford one second place, and three third place ribbons.

This isn't all the story! Making their way to Big Trees Song Girls Camp, Carolyn Woitus, head, Becky Nickoll, Karlyne Bush, Judy Santo, Mary Andro and Tafy Jones brought Blackford great recognition. Doing as well as the Cheerleaders, the Song Girls brought back with them two second place ribbons, and three third place ribbons. This was the final result placing five out of five days during competition.

According to Blackford's Varsity and Frosh. -Soph. Cheerleaders and Song Girls, the spirit trophy will be Blackford's this year. The spirit at the Mitty game was tremendously thrilling and over half the student body and students turned out for the rally.

Blackford Brave's met the Camden Cougar's Friday at 3 p.m. on their field for a varsity football game. The turnout was very successful.

Girl Scouts

Cadette Girl Scout Troop 13 of Neighborhood 17 contributed to the safety of their community by distributing Fire Prevention Posters to Campbell merchants and by hanging two Fire Prevention Banners on the Campbell High School tennis courts fence for the Campbell Fire Department.

The following girls participated in carrying out these projects: Melodie Lansford, Wimmie Davis, Debra Fahrner, Nancy Chivers, Connie Morgan, Barbara Mahler, Karen Dudley, Linda Healey, Lisa Healey, Terry Valdivia, Terry Vrevich, Bernice Griffith, April Roberts, Cheri Pahl, Nancy Quakenbush, Judy Hernandez, Susan Daly, Janette Vincent, Nancy Sandkohl, Kathy Wolf, Karen Bamberg and Annette Gonzales.

Troop 13 went on an all-day outing at the Uvas Dam ranch of Mr. and Mrs. D. Kirk. The activities of the day included hiking, getting acquainted with the domestic animal life and wildlife (lizard hunting) on the ranch, and exploring nature and the natural resources there and discussing plans for the forthcoming year.

Adults who attended were Mrs. R. Hernandez, leader, and Mr. Valdivia.

Camden Capers

By Gayle Piech

Camden's newly adopted physical education program for boys is now in full stride, according to Coach Doug Boehner.

The new program was initiated last year on a trial basis, and then included activities such as: the cross country run, the agility and shuttle runs, more calisthenics, and the rope climb.

During the summer body builders such as: parallel and monkey bars, six and eight foot walls, and balance beams were installed.

Camden coaches hope that this program will build up the body, sharpen balance and wind, and quicken the reflexes.

STUDENTS TO STUDY DRUG ABUSE

A new program concerning drug abuse has been added to the curriculum of all sophomore science classes.

The purpose of the program is to thoroughly familiarize students with the dangers of drug abuse.

Five sophomore science teachers from Camden attended the Teachers Institute on Drug Abuse held at Campbell High last month.

Lt. Stan Harman from the San Jose Police Department, and Dr. J. Thomas Ungerleider from U.C.L.A. Medical Center prepared Miss Van Pelt, Mr. Woods, Mr. Dunbar, Mr. Runcie and Mr. Yonge to teach the course.

According to Miss K. Bull, Director of Education, seniors, juniors and freshmen will take three days to study the subject.

XAVIER COUGAR CHOSEN

Camden's mascot Xavier Cougar, symbol of Camden and leader in spirit, was chosen from a group of 18 girls.

Good health, citizenship, and an average of at least a "C" were three of the four qualifications for the girls, who also performed a routine or skit wearing the Cougar head.

According to an old Camden tradition, the name of the winner will be kept a secret.

COUGARS DOWNED

In a run-away game, the Blackford Braves swept past the Camden Cougars 40-0 on the Camden field.

Camden kept the Brave scoring down in the first half, trailing 14-0.

Then in the second half Blackford took commanding leads of 20, 27, 33 and finally a 40 point bulge.

Children will solicit for UNICEF Oct. 31

Plans for a safe and constructive Hallowe'en were announced yesterday by Mrs. C. Wayne, Campbell Trick or Treat for UNICEF chairman. The theme this year's Trick or Treat for UNICEF drive is "Help children help children". When children ask for coins for UNICEF instead of candy, they will be helping the needy children and mothers in 120 underdeveloped countries through over 500 long range programs," Mrs. Wayne pointed out.

UNICEF does not operate projects directly, but makes grants, usually in the form of supplies, to help countries start or expand programs benefiting children.

A few youngsters will Trick or Treat for UNICEF on the weekend before Hallowe'en, but most of them will come to your door costumed on Hallowe'en evening. They will be identified by the official orange and black collection container bearing the UNICEF symbol of the mother and child. Residents are asked to contribute coins to only properly identified youngsters.

Report urges revision of educational system

California's education needs radical new directions if young people are to cope successfully with the overwhelming demands of the future, according to the 24-member State Committee on Public Education (SCPE).

In a report to the State Board of Education, SCPE said traditional education, which perpetuates rigidities and discourages innovation, is inadequate for the demands of the future. And these demands are of such technological and social magnitude that it is imperative that children be taught to think for themselves if they are to become happy human beings, good producers and good citizens.

"The school should look upon each pupil as a person of unique distinction, possessing every right to grow and no obligation to be fitted into a mold. Let the schools concentrate on the heart of the matter, which is training pupils to think for themselves," the committee said.

LONG STUDY

The SCPE report, "Citizens for the 21st Century," was compiled after 17 months of study. Assisting the citizen committee, headed by Chairman Frederick E. Balderston, University of California vice president for business and finance, were 115 college professors, numerous educators and experts from nearly every field of endeavor.

Made up of leaders from many walks of life, the committee was appointed by State Superintendent of Public Instruction Max Rafferty and former Gov. Edmund G. Brown. It was then asked by the State Board of Education "to think about what boys and girls should be as a result of having gone to school." SCPE was also asked to weigh how the state is succeeding toward that end and how it should best direct itself in the future.

FIRST STEPS

To achieve the desired ends, SCPE recommended that the board, in collaboration with the governor and the legislature, take these first steps toward new directions for the public schools:

"1 - Seek legislation that will give the State Board of Education authority (a) to obtain from each school district its plan for racial, ethnic, and socio-economic integration, and (b) to set a timetable for the achievement of the plan.

"2 - Encourage colleges and universities to reconstruct their programs for preparation of teachers according to the best judgement of the institution, in partnership with appropriate school districts in whose classrooms much of the training would take place. The Board of Education should be empowered to suspend credential requirements for graduates of those institutions submitting acceptable plans. This recommendation aims at training teachers in a variety of ways to match those diverse demands the future is expected to impose on them.

"3 - Establish (a) a series of laboratory schools with the mission to develop and appraise new methods of organization and instruction, and (b) a state network of demonstration schools to illustrate new methods, classroom they are too rushed, not adequately trained or publicly supported to be able to give the needed individualized attention to pupils. Therefore, the teaching process is marked by much talking, with the teacher telling or questioning.

The committee recommended attitudes, including that of the public, toward teachers should be "reconstructed" to upgrade the image of the profession, insure adequate pay and time for teacher self-renewal.

In presenting the report to the board, Balderston stressed, "we are not saying many of these developments are not occurring now. Indeed they are. But the impetus needs to be stepped up. We are dropping behind."

MRS. IRENE GOULTER

Mrs. Goulter to speak on United Nations

Mrs. Irene Goulter will speak twice on Sunday, Oct. 29, at the First Methodist Church of Campbell. Her topic at both the 9 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. services will concern the United Nations.

Recently Mrs. Goulter, and her husband, Dr. O.J. Goulter, have returned from a tour of 14 countries, studying the results of Food for Peace, CARE, and other aid programs. They had spent 30 years previous to this in China organizing the cooperative effort of all churches in the area to serve the rural people.

FIGHT CANCER with a CHECK-UP

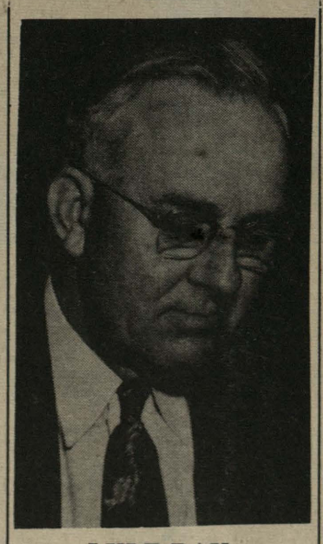
Q. - Can radiation cause cancer?

A. - Yes, but not when radiation is properly used in the practice of medicine or dentistry. X-rays and other forms of radiation used by untrained people can be dangerous. Under such circumstances overexposure to x-rays or to by-products of atomic energy may contribute to the development of cancer, especially leukemia.

Q. - Is there a connection between atomic bomb explosions and cancer?

A. - Some of the radioactive material, such as strontium 90 resulting from an atomic bomb explosion, settles to the earth (fallout) and may eventually get into the body. If a large enough quantity of such material is present over many years, cancer of the bones and/or blood-forming tissue may occur.

R. Lyle Ray, former Campbell Press employee, dies



LYLE RAY

R. Lyle Ray, 75, of 1111 Fewtrell Drive, Campbell, for the past 12 years employed by The Campbell Press as office manager, died last Tuesday (Oct. 10) in a Los Gatos convalescent hospital after a lingering illness.

A native of Kansas, Ray came to Campbell in 1952 after his retirement as a civil service employee of the U.S. Army Finance Department. Prior to coming to Campbell he had been a resident of Berkeley, Calif.

He was the father of Mrs. Ruth Sloaman, of New York, and Lt. Philip Ray, of the Palo Alto Police Department, and the grandfather of one. He was also a brother of Mrs. Olive Towne who had resided with him in Campbell for several years.

For the past several years, Ray was employed on a part-time basis at The Campbell Press but previously he had worked full-time. Because of health reasons, he retired from his position in February of this year.

Although he had left Kansas shortly after graduating from high school, Ray returned to his native state a few years ago to attend the 50th anniversary of his high school graduating class.

During his school days, Ray had been employed on a weekly newspaper in Kansas. He was particularly pleased that after his retirement from civil service and moving to Campbell he was able again to become involved with newspapering.

The esteem in which he was held by his fellow members of the newspaper staff was illustrated on his 72nd birthday when he was an honored-guest at a staff party because he had again reached a "retirement" age but was not stopping.

He had tried to "retire" twice before but had been dissuaded from doing so by his fellow workers.
